

Wiesbaden

Wiesbaden is a city in southwest Germany and the capital of Hesse. It has about 280,000 inhabitants. It's one of the oldest spa towns in Europe. Its name translates to "meadow baths" making reference to the hot springs. It has many beautiful historical buildings and green parks surrounded by a magnificent lanscape.

the school

Elly-Heuss-Schule is a bilingual school with grades from 5th to 12th located in Wiesbaden. It has about 1400 students and aproximately 120 teachers. It offers scientific support, musical and artistic promotion, sports and languages (English, Latin, Spanish, French and Italian) in addition to the common subjects.

the task

The 4th IPM Meeting took place from the 25th to 28th of June and it was about the digital media, use and abuse of it. Students did a previous work in their schools and, once in Wiesbaden, they attended workshops reflecting on the internet use and maybe abuse, the media type, the social networks and the differences between Generation X and Generation Y in the use of the digital media.

I'm meeting many different people from many different countries in a different way, without stereotypes. (student)

Seeing these students learning so much from each other is worth every minute the time we teachers invest. (teacher)

We are happy to spend our time with young people and their teachers from all over Europe. (parents)

I'm able to communicate with students speaking English, so I think it's the best way to practise. (student)
